On 20 November the July 1971 CT Class, the CT Staff and wives met [redacted] The purpose of the meeting was to provide further orientation for the CT wives particularly with regard to service abroad in an emerging nation. To provide a focus for the discussion, the wives and the CT's saw the film "Ambassadors Abroad" which depicts the difficulties of an American wife at a Latin American post. After the film the CT wives met with Program Officers' wives and discussed problems of adjusting to everyday living in an underdeveloped country. During this discussion the CT's met separately with the C/CTP and Program Officers and discussed their interim assignments. The discussion period was followed by lunch and volleyball. The support provided at [redacted] was first-rate. [redacted] of the CT Staff coordinated the arrangements [redacted]
